

For Strong Retail Management Performance:

Market Leader NTS will in Future Provide the "your.NTSwincash" SaaS Solution Using the SILVER SERVER

Wilhering, Austria; with their "Software as a Service (SaaS) solution NTS New Technology Systems enable small and medium sized companies to exploit the advantages of a comprehensive retail management system. Product details directly at the POS, efficient distribution management and detailed data analyses can be leased and used online at a fixed monthly rate – an extremely attractive strategic investment. The only disadvantage so far is that SaaS solutions can be impaired through bad internet connections or lacking availability of respectively insufficient computing centre resources, a risk which we as a European market leader in retail management solutions and provider of the SaaS solution "your.NTSwincash" have now reduced to a minimum.

"Starting from 18th of April we will change to SILVER SERVER, a renowned server housing provider, to offer our customers even greater reliability and performance from our SaaS solution," explains Günther Schrammel, CEO of NTS New Technology Systems GmbH "since there is virtually no single point of failure in the new computing centre running "your.NTSwincash". Should any server or network component fail, the dedicated failover component will take over within seconds. Access to "your.NTSwincash" is hence never impeded" complements Oliver Ortner, engineer responsible for "your.NTSwincash".

The SaaS solution will additionally be directly connected to the Vienna Internet Exchange (VIX), the Austrian Internet node, to guarantee even higher levels of availability. "The only change for our customers is the logon domain, since we expect the changeover to run absolutely smoothly" says Schrammel. International telco titans, such as Vodafone or T-Mobile, rely on the comprehensive branch and POS solution from NTS in their customer and sales organisation.

The only difference between the traditional management system and the "rentable" SaaS variant called "your.NTSwincash" is that using SaaS your staff can easily access a fully configured retail management system online with no initial software, hardware, licensing or administrative investments required. "The NTS SaaS solution is a highly specialist product offering real value for money, and with our new Partner, SILVER SERVER, we can provide it even faster and more reliably." concludes Schrammel.
